MRS. DE SAULLES AGAIN ON STAND IN MURDER CASE

Called For Cross Examination
By Attorney For Prosecution

LETTERS TO HUSBAND
PRODUCED AS EVIDENCE

Husband's Intimacy With Duke of Manchester Introduced Into Case

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Blanca Errazuriz, mother of Mrs. Blanca de Saulles was today expected to take the witness stand to testify in behalf of her daughter who is on trial in supreme court here charged with the murder of her divorced husband, John L. de Saulles.

Mrs. Errazuriz, together with her other daughter, Amelia, and her son, William, came to New York from Chile, on the first ship available upon hearing of the tragedy at de Saulles' home near Westbury, L. I., the night of August 3. In the event of Mrs. de Saulles' acquittal the mother and her three children intend to return to their Chilean home, accompanied by John L. de Saulles, Jr., aged four and a half years.

It was her love for the boy that impelled the defendant to go to her divorced husband's home on the night of the tragedy, attorneys for the defense claim. They say, if acquitted, Mrs. de Saulles automatically will be established as the boy's only custodian and guardian.

The character of the testimony which it is expected Mrs. Errazuriz will give has not been outlined by Mrs. de Saulles' counsel. Several other witnesses for the defense are to follow her on the witness stand where upon a volume of expert testimony is to be adduced.

The testimony, which will concern Mrs. de Saulles' mental condition now and at the time of the shooting, is expected to occupy considerable time.

Alienists, X-ray specialists and other men prominent in the medical profession are to testify for both sides in connection with Mrs. de Saulles' claim that she was mentally irresponsible when she fired the shots that resulted in the death of her former husband. It is believed the trial will continue well into next week.

WILL ORGANIZE OHIO WAR COMMISSION WHICH WILL LOOK AFTER WELFARE OF MEN IN VARIOUS OHIO MILITARY UNITS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Nov. 27.—Family and personal affairs of drafted men serving in the National Army at Camp Sherman need no longer worry them and distract attention from their work for they are to be taken care of in detail by committees at the homes of the men and by a committee working at the camps in the connection with the local bodies. Troublesome problems of any kind arising at the homes of the men or originating at the camp will be untangled by the committees without the attention of the soldiers themselves. This is embodied in a plan of Major General E. F. Glenn, which has been approved by the war department and by Governor Cox and will be put into effect immediately. The whole organization which will be known as the Ohio War commission will be directed to seeing to the welfare of the men not only at Camp Sherman but in all other Ohio military units and is the result of the belief held by General Glenn from the first that the families of the draftees must be cared for and that home troubles must not interfere with work at camp.

Local committees will be appointed in every city and village in the state from representative citizens. These committees will look into conditions at the home of the men, report cases of sickness and the needs of relatives and in fact any matter which concerns the men themselves. The Camp Sherman bureau will take up the other end and the soldiers and troubles which in the past have perplexed and bothered men away from their homes and unable to give aid which otherwise would have been forthcoming will be smoothed over without bad effects.

Closer co-operation between home communities and men at the camp will also be undertaken by the committees. It being realized that in order that the National Army be a success it must have the unqualified backing of the people at home.

NEAR SUFFOCATION.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Toledo, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Thomas Rooney, 60, was severely burned on the head and back early today when the Rooney home burned. Her husband and son were nearly suffocated before being rescued.

An example of the workings of the organization will come up when Private Smith comes to the Camp Sherman bureau saying that his dependent wife is ill—the wife will be given medical and financial aid by the Red Cross which will co-operate with the local committee in every city. Or Corporal Jones has business troubles at home—word will be gotten to the local committee composed of capable business men and the matter will be rectified by them.

This movement is going to be a very important step in making good soldiers of Ohio's men." General Glenn said today.

"The men will be able to devote all of their time to military studies when worry is taken off their minds by the realization that the people they left behind are properly cared for."

Here are some of the big reasons why General Glenn brought into existence the war commission and a few of the instances in which the wide scope of its work will be felt: To care for the families of selected men, if the families are in need; to direct systematically and educationally campaign for the building of patriotism; for the stimulating of interest and giving Ohio's soldiers moral backing; to care for the personal affairs of men and their problems; to make it clear to the families of men the government's absolute need for them; to encourage patriotic meetings, where families of selected men may come in contact with one another; to advise families of selected men that no letter or telegram asking for leave of absence due to sickness of friends or relatives will be recognized unless such information comes through the secretary of the committee; and to enable families to get in touch with or find out the condition of their particular boy in service with one of the Ohio military units.

General Glenn will announce the personnel of the committee in a few days.

BRITISH HOLD BOURLON WOOD NEAR CAMBRIA

New German Attacks Fail to Drive Them From Stronghold

TURKS IN DANGER FROM THE BRITISH CAVALRY

Which is Now Only Short Distance From Jeru-

New German attacks to drive the British from their positions in Bourlon wood and the high ground dominating the Cambria region have failed. General Bryan's men have repulsed another enemy counter attack at the northeast corner of the wood. There was much severe fighting Monday around Moeuvres, west of the Bourlon wood and in the outskirts of Fontaine Notre Dame immediately east of the wood and toward Cambrai. German artillery has been active in the Ypres and Verdun regions. In Flanders the British positions at Passchendaele, in the northern part of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge, are being bombarded heavily by the enemy, but Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria has not attempted infantry attacks.

On the right bank of the Meuse where the French gained the first and second German defenses on a two-mile front Sunday, German efforts to attack have been checked by French artillery, while the enemy guns have been bombarding the new French positions. The activity of the big guns also has been violent in Belgium and north of the Chemin des Dames.

French and British soldiers have reached the fighting zone north of the Venetian plains to aid the Italians in their brave defense against the invading Austro-German forces. Between the Brenta and the Piave the Italians are withstanding successfully massed enemy attacks. The invaders attempted to rush the defending lines on the left, in the center and on the right of the short front between the rivers, but were crushed everywhere by the Italians.

British cavalry is now three and one-half miles west of Jerusalem and is closing in on the Turkish defenses from the southwest. The Turks are offering some resistance and are holding the Jerusalem-Shechem road to the north in strength. North of Jaffa British patrols have been driven back to the southern side of the Nahr-el-Aujel.

The situation in Russia shows little improvement and the country is described as being on the verge of civil war. Efforts of the Bolshevik government to arrange an armistice continue and Berlin and Petrograd are reported in communication by wireless, presumably in connection with the peace offer of the Maximists. The second army, on the Russian northern front has removed its officers, agreed to the Bolshevik armistice proposal and pledged its support to the extremists.

The American government has received the armistice note from the Petrograd government and it is under consideration. The ministers of the allied powers in the Russian capital. It is reported unofficially, will demand their passports if Russia enters into separate peace negotiations. General Kaledines, the Don Cossack leader, a dispatch received in London says, is master of the situation in Russia. He is in control of most of the grain growing territory in the south and is said to hold the Russian gold reserve, reported removed from Petrograd a year before the war broke out. The Russian soldiers at the front are reported desperate from hunger due to the expropriation of food supplies and munitions are said to have broken out.

DIAMONDS VALUED AT $20,000 STOLEN FROM CLEVELAND, O., HOTEL

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—Cleveland police and detectives today were working on the theft from the crowded lobby of a prominent hotel of a registered mail package containing diamonds valued at $20,000. Although the theft was committed last Friday evening, no word of it became public until today and then came effort was made by police to keep the facts quiet. It was learned, however, that the diamonds, said to be sixty-five in number and unset, were the property of Yankhauser, Newitt and Platt Jewelry company, New York.

The mail package containing the diamonds was sent to J. M. Yankhauser in this city by one of his partners in Detroit. The package reached the hotel Friday. A boy was sent to page Yankhauser. Failing to find Yankhauser the boy returned the package to the mail clerk's desk. Before the girl in charge of the desk turned to take up the package some one had stolen it.

BRITISH TROOPS BARE WAY THROUGH HINDENBURG LINE NEAR MOEUVRES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
British Headquarters in France, No. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The British have made another advance in the Cambrai area and, according to the latest reports have worked their way forward through the northwestern part of Montaine Notre Dame, which they captured at the beginning of the attack last week, but subsequently lost. They are now said to have advanced almost to the main street which runs east and west through the center of the village.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
British Army Headquarters in France, Monday, Nov. 26.—British troops, including some from London, last night continued to bore their way forward through the Hindenburg support line west of Moeuvres. There was vigorous fighting at close quarters in this region, and, as a result the British today were in possession of a further section of support trenches, 2,000 yards long, running east and west, just south of Provinsville and Inchy-en-Artois. The British advance in the last few days had made this section of the line virtually untenable and the Germans were forced to withdraw when pressed by a new attack.

Fighting was renewed today between Bourlon wood and Cambrai about Fontaine Notre Dame, where the Germans were still installed and continued to work machine guns from roofs and windows. West of here, at Bourlon wood and Bourlon village, the situation remained much as it was last night after the Germans had forced the British out of most of the village in a fierce counter-attack which involved still more furious hand-to-hand fighting through the streets. The battle continued here today.

The fight for Bourlon wood and village will long be remembered as one of the most bitterly contested and sanguinary yet fought along the British front in France. American officers visiting the Cambrai sector have been thrilled at this renewal of old type warfare and with one accord say:

"That's the kind of fighting American troops would like to be in, for you are in the open where you can get at the enemy with cold steel."

The Germans have been concentrating all efforts in the attempt to cut the British from their elevation, which is vital for the enemy to hold their line. He is maintaining himself in the present positions farther north and northwest.

The British have clung tenaciously to Bourlon wood, defended partly by tanks which have taken positions at advantageous locations from which they can work their guns. "Montaine Notre Dame" was being pressed by the British at latest reports. Throughout yesterday this hamlet remained unmolested for it in no way hampered the operations about Bourlon wood.

cause of several remarkable operations he has performed. The Germans all swear by the "Big American," and treat him with utmost deference. It fell to the lot of this surgeon to operate upon a German who had left the Russian front only 36 hours before. He was among the reinforcements rushed from the east. It took him 24 hours to get into the battle before Cambrai and 12 hours later he was a prisoner in a British clearing station.

TOLEDO BANDITS ROB PAYMASTER OF $37,000 CASH

Toledo, Nov. 27.—The police announce capture of the six bandits who held up the Huebner Brewery company bookkeeper today and got away with $37,000.

The police also announced the recovery of all the stolen money. In addition to the six men, a 20 year old girl, Wanda Urbatis is under arrest. She was employed as telephone girl in the Huebner Brewery offices. Her brother is one of the alleged bandits under arrest.

Toledo, Nov. 27.—Five auto bandits attacked the chief bookkeeper of the Huebner-Toledo Breweries company this morning, beat him senseless and stole $37,000. The robbers escaped in an auto stolen yesterday evening from A. G. Spitzer.

The bookkeeper, Anton Conner, 56, has been with the company 40 years and for years has made daily trips to the bank with the preceding day's receipts.

He was attacked one block from the brewery office at 11:10, while on his way to catch a car to take money for deposit in the bank.

Two of the bandits slugged him with bills and two others battered his head with beer bottles until he fell unconscious. Then they wrested from him a small black satchel which contained the money, ran around the corner to the waiting automobile and escaped.

The stolen satchel contained between $17,000 and $18,000 in currency and the remained in checks, mostly Overland pay checks that had been cashed by saloons and turned over to the brewery.

AMERICAN BOAT TORPEDOED AND NUMBER ARE MISSING

With the American Army in France, Monday, Nov. 26.—(By the Associated Press)—An impressive ceremony marked the presentation of the French war cross to the American soldiers who withstood the first German raid early this month. Fifteen officers and men, cited with their company by the French general commanding the sector, were decorated today.

It was late in the afternoon when the regiment to which the company which suffered the casualties is attached, marched to the top of a big grassy hill. There, under skies threatening rain and with the cold, wintry wind blowing, they formed three sides of a hollow square. At the base of the square the regiment, all colors and the Stars and Stripes cracked in the wind. The regiment was called to attention as the general commanding came up and took his position in the open side of the square.

The general first read the citation for the whole company, which was standing near the colors, breaches in the ranks showing where the men now prisoners in Germany or in hospital had formerly stood. The general congratulated the company, saying:

"Occasions arise frequently in war and will arise frequently again, where clear-headed coolness and courage are necessary. This company behaved on one occasion as it was expected to do, and as every other company of American soldiers is expected to do under similar circumstances. The French general commanding the sector considers these men have earned war crosses, and I here deliver them and the citation."

"You must understand that you must not wear them, but must keep them in your possession until congress authorizes the wearing of them."

REVIEW OF THE OPERATIONS IN MANY SECTORS

Disclose That Allied Arms
Have Been Successful
During Past Week

STRATEGIC MOVES WERE BRILLIANTLY EXECUTED

By British Along Western Front—French Take Prisoners

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 27.—"The week just closed has been one very favorable to the allied arms," says the war department's official communique issued today, reviewing military operations for the week ending Saturday. "The success of the British offensive in the region of Cambrai and the steady resistance of the Italians in the face of the repeated attacks of the Austro-German forces are two factors which may be considered as correlative elements of one and the same movement."

"It is evident that the enemy took the offensive in Italy hoping thereby to extricate himself from the increasingly difficult position in which his forces find themselves by the west. The German higher command were apparently confident that, in order to save Italy from invasion, such important contingents of French and British troops would be detached from the western front as to render any further allied offensive in this theatre impossible. Though the French and British have both dispatched large contingents to Italy, this has in no way hampered the continuance of their offensive operations."

"It is the wastage of the enemy forces, the slow, yet relentless sapping of his man power by continued and sudden offensive thrusts, which must eventually result in the softening of his line in the west. This is the ultimate object of the series of intensive offensives so successfully pursued by the allies during the past six months, and is even more important than the gain of terrain."

"The military situation is dominated by the spectacular success gained by the British forces in their thrust towards Cambrai. By adopting new tactical methods, by evolving a strategy daringly conceived and brilliantly executed, the British forces have been able to record a greater success, when measured by captured terrain, than any hitherto achieved by either belligerent in the same space of time along the western front. While seemingly continuing his offensive engagements in Flanders by an intense artillery bombardment in the section stretching from the Ypres to the North sea, Field Marshal Haig was able to mask successfully his plans for an offensive thrust between the Scarpe river and St. Quentin."

"The usual preliminary artillery preparation was dispensed with. The elements of surprise so essential to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1.)

FRENCH WAR CROSS PRESENTED TO 15 AMERICAN SOLDIERS IN FRANCE WHO WITHSTOOD FIRST HUN RAID

He then presented the company's citation and cross to the lieutenant commanding. Next the three lieutenants stepped from their positions, saluted and received their individual crosses. The general congratulated each man. Next the non-commissioned officers and men marched up, were congratulated on receiving the honor and then returned to their places in the ranks.

The company lieutenant was given the cross and citation for a corporal who was unable to leave the hospital because of a severe wound. To the regimental colonel the general entrusted the decorations awarded the three men killed in the raid, asking him to see that they were sent to the next of kin in the United States.

As the regimental band played "Star-Spangled Banner" the regiment came briskly to the salute, remaining in that position until the last notes had been borne away across the valley by the wind. The regiment then marched back to the nearby town where it is billeted, seemingly with just a little more snap in every step.

And the men who had in their pockets the coveted French decoration, which is awarded only for heroic deeds in the face of the enemy, wore broad grins of satisfaction.

If there was any man in the regiment who did not come to the tents of the honored company to shake the hands of their decorated comrades, whom France officially has proclaimed heroes, it was because that man or men had urgent duties elsewhere requiring immediate attention. The soldiers several times tried to evade the congratulations of their comrades and two of the younger ones to get the war cross actually blushed when the press of admiring friends became too great around them.

REVIEW OF THE OPERATIONS IN MANY SECTORS

victory played a large part in the successes gained. The British by a preponderant numerical superiority in men and mobile material, by improving the skillful tactical maneuvering of an unusual number of tanks, and by co-operating with precision the deployment of cavalry, made use of their two arms to bar the front of the encounter. Infantry then was called upon to hold and consolidate the terrain gained. Thus the British were able to record a decided success with very great economy of munitions, and slight casualties. Three successive German lines of defense on a frontage of six miles astride the Cambrai-Bapaume road were captured, and the Scheldt canal in front of Cambrai was crossed.

"During the first day of the battle dull dry weather greatly facilitated operations, which began at dawn on Nov. 20th. Later had weather set in, and torrential rains, accompanied by flurries of snow, held up the attack. The capture of the village of Fontaine Notre Dame, two and three-quarters miles west of Cambrai, marks the present limit of the advance. The British forces while still pressing forward, are meeting with increased resistance. Severe fighting continues, and we may expect desperate attempts on the part of the enemy not merely to prevent any further British advance but to regain, if possible, some of the lost ground.

"Cambrai, the center of very important rail, road and canal lines of communication now comes under the immediate fire of British field guns, while the large calibre high velocity and naval guns can readily search out the country side for miles in the rear, harassing hostile territory and rendering continued tenure of the city by the enemy difficult. To the right and left of the scene of the major operations on a front extending approximately to thirty-two miles, the attacking forces have penetrated various strong points. The number of prisoners enumerated hitherto is over ten thousand which exceeds the total British casualties.

"While the battle for Cambrai has resulted so rapid and sweeping an advance for the British forces, apparently without extensive preliminary preparation, it must not be forgotten that it was only made possible by the continued pounding of the German lines in Flanders. In the meantime the British have not ceased to keep the enemy busy in the Ypres salient, and gains of terrain are noted to the southeast.

"Along the front held by the French forces, the latter have achieved a successful coup de main south of Jouvencourt in Champagne, resulting in the capture of some elements of enemy trenches and the taking of numerous prisoners. Lively artillery duels took place north of the Chemin des Dames and in the Verdun sector, where, as for several weeks past, the enemy continued to bombard the French positions in Chaume wood.

"In the sector where our troops

THOMAS AMBROSE FEENEY
Second Lieutenant.

are training increased artillery activity is noted. Small detachments while on patrol duty, have gained some useful experience.

"The Italian armies, now completing their reorganization, have been able to withstand the assaults of the numerically superior forces of the Austro-German divisions engaged against them. They have hitherto prevented any further invasion of the Italian plain. The enemy is continuing his efforts to break through. The line of the Piave was held firm. Along the lower Piave where hostile forces gained a temporary foothold on the right bank of the river they were driven off with great loss, thus rendering the Italian positions more secure.

"Along the plateau of the Sette Comuni heavy fighting is going on. The enemy has been successfully contained. In the mountain region between the Brenta and the Piave defensive operations have been well conducted and the enemy has been unable to make any further progress. Strategic reserves, strengthened by allied contingents have been constituted. The morale of the Italian forces is improving daily, and while the situation is not wholly free from critical aspects, the defensive measures appear adequate to meet the situation.

"In Palestine the British forces under General Allenby are advancing rapidly on Jerusalem. They have now reached a point on the Ramaleh road approximately seven miles west of the city, while another force is bearing down from the north."

Juvenile Court.

The case of Earl Walters, 15, charged with delinquency was heard before Judge Robbins Hunter in the Probate Court this morning. The charge was filed following a collision between a machine driven by Walters, which belonged to his father, and a taxicab owned by "Buster" Bowman, at the corner of Eleventh and West Church streets.

The accident happened two weeks ago when the taxicab driver was returning a family from a funeral Walters who is under age, was charged with exceeding the speed limit, and the boy was brought into juvenile court on the delinquency charge.

The court found him guilty of exceeding the speed limit and he was fined the costs, and deprived of the privilege of driving a motor vehicle for six months. The question of a civil suit for damages was held up until a later time.

MRS. DE SAULLES AGAIN ON STAND IN MURDER CASE

L. de Saulles—at his Long Island home on the night of August 3.

There were indications that this letter will be used by attorneys for the prosecution in their attempt to break down the story of "indifferent neglect" on the part of her husband, told in direct examination by the young Chilean woman yesterday. The letter was written while Mrs. de Saulles was on shipboard bound for Chile to visit relatives in the spring of 1916, prior to the granting of her divorce decree.

At that time, the witness said she felt that her married life was ended—"morally."

Mrs. de Saulles countered her admission that she wrote the letter saying "she was to blame for everything" by stating "de Saulles always made me believe that I was at fault."

In his question, District Attorney Charles R. Weeks delved apologetically into intimate subjects relating to Mrs. de Saulles' marital relations.

"Is it not a fact after the birth of your son you refused to live with John L. de Saulles as man and wife?" was one of his interrogations.

The witness said this was not true.

"Did you not tell an intimate woman friend that you did not care who your husband went around with as long as he stayed away from you?" asked Weeks.

"That is a lie," was Mrs. de Saulles' reply.

A number of letters written by the defendant to her husband throughout their married life which contained many endearing phrases were read by Attorney Weeks. "Did you mean that?" asked the attorney a number of times, indicating some particularly warm professions of love contained in the missives.

"My heart was broken—but I would not let him know. I never told a person," Mrs. de Saulles replied to one of these questions.

A letter written by de Saulles in which he admonished his wife to "turn over a new leaf," and saying she had refused to live with him for the "past four years," was among those read.

Contrary to predictions yesterday, Mrs. de Saulles was returned to the witness stand today for cross-examination by District Attorney Chas. W. Weeks, who is conducting the prosecution.

Week's first question was in relation to her closing statement yesterday that she remembered nothing from the time she heard her former husband refuse to give her custody of their son until she awakened in the Nashua county jail. He asked whether she testified to that effect. The witness answered in the affirmative.

Mrs. de Saulles said her finger nails had been very brittle and that her hair had fallen out to an appreciable degree during the last few months. Attorneys for the defense maintain these symptoms indicate the progress of the disease of the thyroid gland, hypothyroidism, from which it is claimed she was suffering at the time of the tragedy; and which is held responsible for her lapse of accountability.

After drawing from Mrs. de Saulles a statement that it was "just before the war that she first believed her husband was not faithful to her" the prosecutor read a letter which the witness identified, as having been written by her, in which she told her husband he had been "such a perfect, loving husband" and a "sweet father." This letter was written at South Bethlehem, Pa., just after the birth of their son—John L. de Saulles, Jr.—on Christmas day, 1912.

"I said that because he had stayed with me during the birth of our baby," Mrs. de Saulles said, after the letter had been read.

Other letters, purporting to show she was living in a state of domestic tranquility prior to the time she secured a divorce, were read. In one of these, Mrs. de Saulles urged her husband to "get an appointment as minister to London." She was in London at that time, she said. In answer to another question, the witness said she "had a pretty good time there."

In the midst of Week's questioning, Mrs. de Saulles interrupted to say, "I never wrote a letter or said anything to anyone letting them know I was anything but extremely happy."

In one letter to her husband, Mrs. de Saulles said:

"If you don't trust me, at least give me credit for having a good head. I am very careful with the invitations I accept and know when I can go out with a man."

"Have you found anyone prettier

JAMES H. BUELL,
Captain.

than your baby girl? Mrs. de Saulles asked her husband in another of the missives. It continued:

"I have not found anyone I could place in the same sphere with you, darling boy. I have seen no one as handsome, as sweet, and as manly as you."

"Did you think all these things about your husband—that he was manly—when you wrote that?" asked the attorney.

"I thought the best way to hold a husband was to flatter him to death," was the answer.

Mrs. de Saulles' story of seeing her husband aboard a vessel with the Duke of Manchester, surrounded with a "bevy of Broadway's choicest beauties," came into the examination at this point.

"Did you not know that Mr. de Saulles was the associated with the duke in a deal to furnish horses to the allied government, an in which your husband cleaned up $50,000?" asked Weeks.

"I never knew that," replied Mrs. de Saulles.

Another letter was read in which Mrs. de Saulles begged her husband's forgiveness for "spending so absurdly on clothes."

Mrs. de Saulles testified that she was "very unhappy" and "very hurt" over an incident in London when de Saulles would not permit her to stay at the same hotel where he was stopping.

A portion of this letter told of a dance Mrs. de Saulles had attended. She said she had danced until she had no feet left to stand on.

The defendant swore that at the dance party "some of those future cocktails that taste like dirty water and look like diluted milk" had been ordered for her.

OLD BOARD OF TRADE VINDICATED BY JUDGE P. B. BLAIR'S DECISION IN COUNTRY CLUB CASE RECENTLY TRIED

The decision of Judge Park B. Blair in the Country club or permanent encampment ground case is a complete vindication of the old board of trade in its management of the old camping ground. The ground lying west of Newark was presented to the state of Ohio for use as an encampment for the Ohio National Guard, and when the soldiers stopped using the ground the title reverted to the Board of Trade of Newark. For a number of years the ground was farmed, but later the Board of Trade leased the ground to a new organization known as the Country club, on condition that the annual rental paid by the club be used for permanent improvements of the ground. The result was that the mounds were restored, trees preserved, and other improvements carried out, making this ground one of the beauty-spots of the proportions of 10-12—that is, in the proportions of the purchase price paid by each. Newark having paid $10,000, and Licking county having paid $13,000 of the purchase price, and that the defendant, the Board of Trade, holds the same in trust for the city and county in these proportions. The Board of Trade having ceased to transact the business for which it was incorporated, and being now dormant, it is not defunct, it would seem advisable that this trust be terminated, or that such Board of Trade be removed as such trustee and that a successor be appointed by this court. A decree so finding will be entered, and A. A. Stasel, the member of the Board of Trade who has had actual and active control of these lands, will be appointed as trustee to succeed such Board of Trade, providing, Mr. Stasel will accept such trust. If Mr. Stasel declines to accept, a trustee will be named by this court who is willing to accept such trust. Such trustee to keep in tact and preserve this property for the uses and purposes contemplated in the original scheme for which it was purchased—that is, shall preserve and protect the prehistoric works thereon, and afford the general public opportunity to visit and use the ground in such manner as the Board of Trade has done in the past and as it is now doing. Such trustee to render annual accounts to this court of his administration of such trust, showing an itemized statement of all receipts and expenditures pertaining to such trust, and to pay the net proceeds, or profits arising therefrom (if any) to the city of Newark and county of Licking in the proportions of 10 to 12—10-12 thereof to the city and 13-22 to the county. Such trustee to receive such compensation as this court shall from time to time determine. The legal title to such lands to be vested in the trustee named.

"The lease executed by the Board of Trade to the Licking county Country club shall be held to be a valid lease, and this decree shall preserve to such Country club all its rights under such lease, and it is to be hoped that it will exercise its option to renew such lease at its expiration and continue to keep such grounds in the same splendid condition in which they are now kept. The board of Trade and its officers are to be complimented for their management of these grounds in the past, and if they comply with this decree, without further litigation, the costs of this proceeding may be paid from funds derived from the rental of these lands. Otherwise the costs will be assessed against such Board of Trade."

"A decree in accordance with the above finding will be entered. Motion for new trial, if made, will be overruled and exceptions noted. If an appeal be taken the appeal bond will be fixed at $200."

"PARK B. BLAIR, Judge."

A. A. STASEL.

Ohio. The Board of Trade's sole purpose was to preserve the ground, keep it in fine condition with the idea of making it into a public park at a later date when it could be maintained as a park. The lease provided that the public should have free access to the ground.

The case was heard about 30 days ago. Ralph Norpell, Phil B. Smythe, Frank A. Bolton and Ray Martin appeared for the city of Newark and others, while Edward Kibler and James R. Fitzgibbon represented the Country club, and A. A. Stasel and Carl Norpell the old Board of Trade. Judge Blair reads his decision from Mr. Vernon today.

"The legal questions involved in this case are too elementary to require discussion. I find the equitable title to the lands in controversy in Newark and Licking county, in

WORK OF RAISING FUND IS DRAGGING OVER THE COUNTY

Word comes from the outlying portions of the county that the work of raising the Y. M. C. A. War Work Fund is dragging. This is of course, due to the fact that many of the residents are willing that someone else should do their part in this work.

This is a condition that must be corrected at all hazards, for the task which faces America today is of too great magnitude to permit of anyone "slacking" on the job.

There are many rumors of a critical nature afloat which tend to make the work of the committeemen hard and which should be dealt with out of hand. These rumors owe their origin to three sources: first, lack of information and misunderstanding on the part of those who are fully informed would gladly do the full part. This sort of folk should be dealt with patiently and the facts placed before them in a manner calculated to enlist their whole-hearted co-operation. Second, selfishness on the part of some who are willing to do irreparable damage to the cause for which we are fighting in order that they may escape the discharge of that which is reasonably their duty. These folks should recognize as the most despicable type of "slacker" and there is no doubt that they will be made to feel the disapproval of their patriotic neighbors ere the war is ended. Third, and by far the most frequent is the pro-German slander that is exceedingly difficult to trace to its source and which is a part of the propaganda of the German spy system.

The most deplorable part of this phase of the situation is that well-meaning people are lending themselves to the spread of this sort of thing. There is need of drastic measures in dealing with this matter and under no consideration should one repeat stories which they may hear without first making a thorough investigation of the matter.

If some one tells you a story of alleged graft, or mismanagement on the part of Red Cross or Y. M. C. A. officials, or if there is drastic criticism of the administration in connection with the Liberty Loan campaign, ask for his authority in the matter and if possible discover the point of origin of the criticism; for in this time of crisis, there can be no quarter given to disloyalty. It is urged that all township committees, get their reports in by Thanksgiving in order that the campaign may be closed.

CAPT. F. G. WARDEN HAS PURCHASED A FAST FILLY WITH SPLENDID RECORD

(Horse Review.)
Dr. W. A. Barber, of Springfield, O., sold last week to F. G. Warden of Newark, proprietor of a string of hotels throughout the country, the two-year-old filly Jeanette the Great, winner of second money in the Breeders' purse at the Ohio state fair, later working the mile track at Columbus in 2:15, with a half in 1:05, quarter in :31. Mr. Warden contemplates racing her over the half-mile tracks with his good trotting mare Mohanya, with which he won ten $1,000 stakes, and finished the season something over $5,000 to the good, and it looks as though this filly would do well on most any half-mile track circuit. She is eligible to the REVUE purse for three-year-olds, as well as the Kentucky futurity. This is Mr. Warden's first start in the juvenile branch of the industry, and as he is now breeding, will, no doubt, give it more attention. His good trotting mares, Madam Queen 2:14 1/4 and Muriel Finch, will both produce the coming year. The filly was shipped with Mohanya by Nelson, Co., to Des Moines, Ia., where they will be wintered. Mr. Warden spending most of his time looking after the Chamberlain Hotel at that point.

Music - a war-time necessity

A famous general once said that the only enemies he ever feared entered the battle with a song on their lips.

Patriotism is three parts emotion and music is the language of the emotions.

Courage is born of the heart and music speaks straight to the heart.

In times that try men's souls, every force which keeps the nation's spirit bright is a great and positive asset. Every means of combating trial with happiness must be carefully conserved and fostered.

A nation at war requires food for its soul as well as for its body. The morale of the fighting forces must be maintained. The mental and moral resources of the people must be preserved at their full vigor. Recreational and cultural activities must provide the needed relaxation, revive the drooping spirits, soften the sting of sorrow instil new ardors of bravery and determination. The sound of laughter must be heard in the land.

Instinctively men turn to music for entertainment and inspiration. Music speaks a tongue that all can understand, that nothing else can speak. It reaches down to the hidden springs of feeling, replenishes and refreshes them. To the mysterious power of music, the pulse responds and hopes run high. Under its healing influence, gloom and despair lose their evil grip.

Imagine, if you can, a nation going into war without the thrill of music! Imagine, if you can, a nation battling through the dark days of a prolonged struggle without the heartening comfort of music!

The Victrola is literally the nation's chief source of music. More Americans—and Americans in the making—have learned "The Star Spangled Banner" from the Victrola than from any other one source. The Victrola is in millions of homes. It is in camp, on shipboard, in the trenches, the hospitals, the schools, and the churches. It is the principal source of cheerfulness and entertainment to the soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam. "Back home" among the folks behind the army—the farmers, the men and women in the fields and the factories, in city and in country, the Victrola is one of the greatest—if not the greatest—means of diversion.

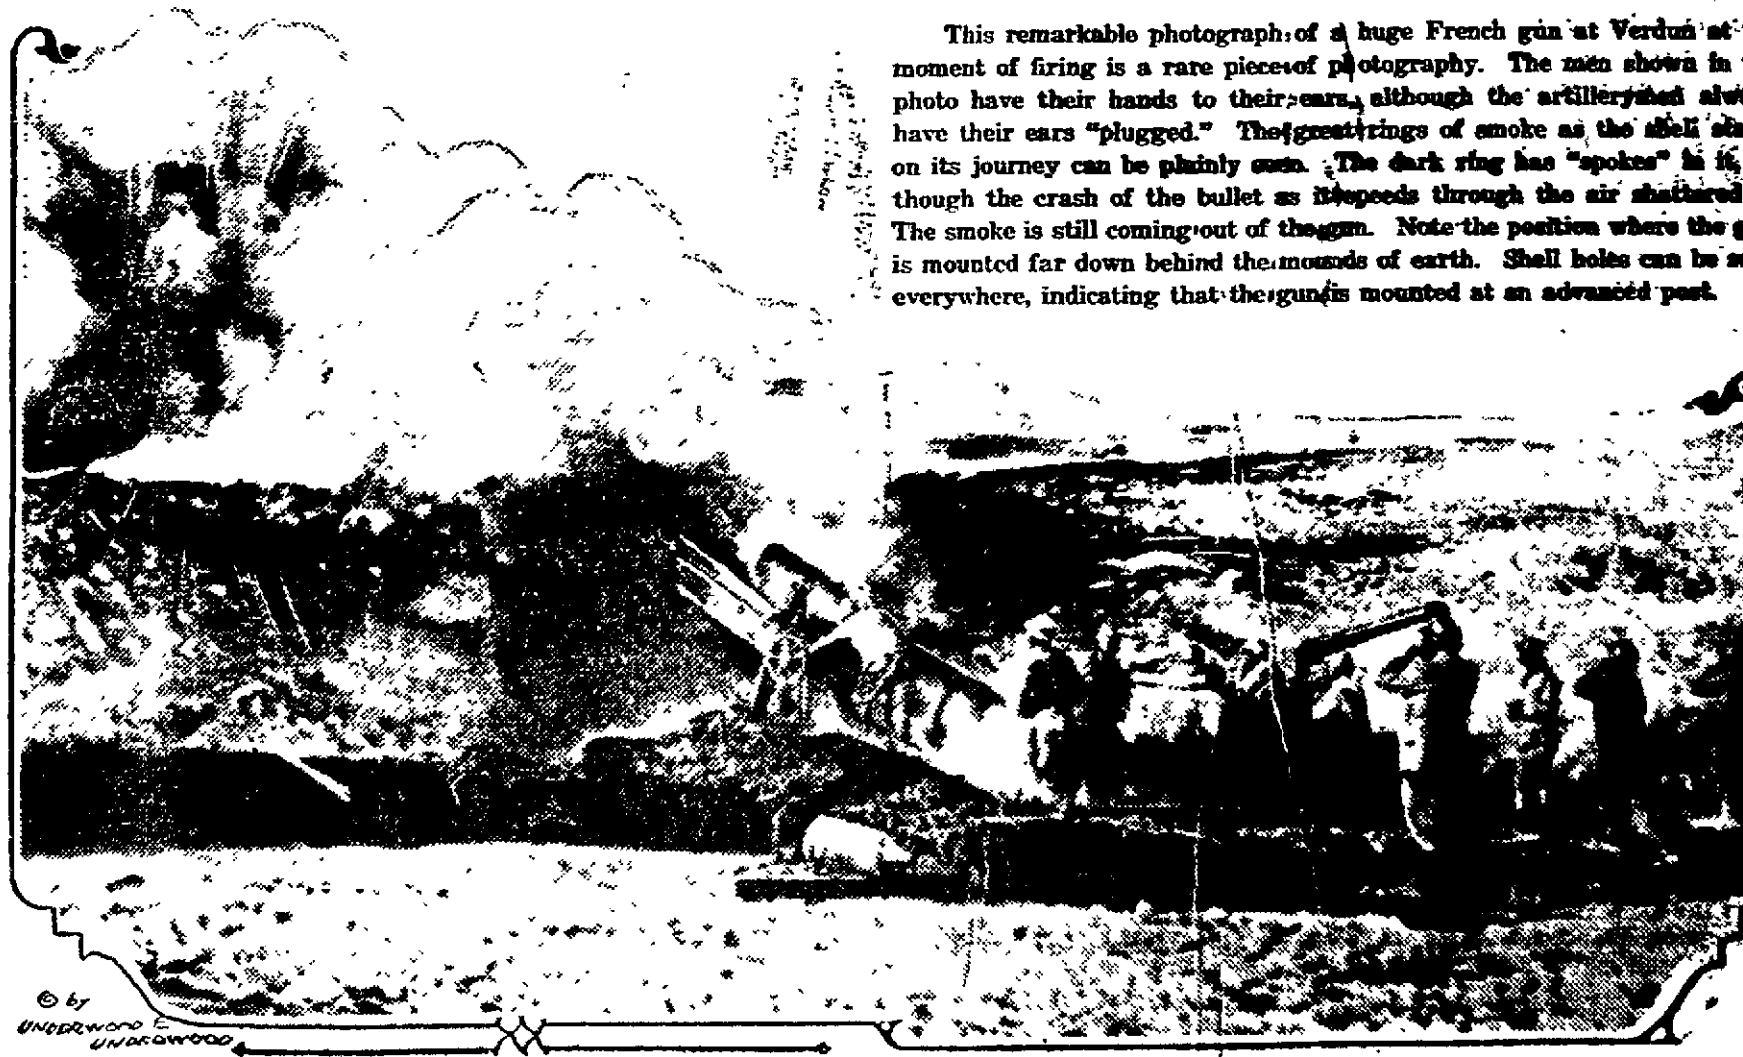

It is the mission of the artist to create beauty and pleasure. It is the mission of the Victrola to carry them directly to the people, to plant them in their homes and thus to contribute to their mental and spiritual well-being.

The tremendous popularity and use of the Victrola and Victor Records indicate how strongly established they are in the affections of the people, how completely they are fulfilling a national need.

The Victrola performs no mean service to the nation.

HUGE FRENCH GUN AT VERDUN IS PHOTOGRAPHED AT THE MOMENT OF FIRING

This remarkable photograph of a huge French gun at Verdun at the moment of firing is a rare piece of photography. The men shown in the photo have their hands to their ears, although the artillerymen always have their ears "plugged." The great rings of smoke as the shell starts on its journey can be plainly seen. The dark ring has "spokes" in it, as though the crash of the bullet as it speeds through the air shattered it. The smoke is still coming out of the gun. Note the position where the gun is mounted far down behind the mounds of earth. Shell holes can be seen everywhere, indicating that the gun is mounted at an advanced post.

WASTE AND HIGH PRICES.

The high cost of living is not caused wholly by high costs of labor, wrong systems of distribution, etc. There are the wasteful habits of the people. We have grown up in a spendthrift way in this country of magnificent resources. We have never bothered about the small economies by which the people of the old world get along.

Take the good and unsalable stuff that is thrown away in dumping places. The Chicago house of correction has recently been doing some interesting work in reclaiming such material. It had 2000 idle prisoners, and it set them to work utilizing waste of municipal departments and other sources.

An amazingly large amount of valuable products were saved. One prisoner whose keep was figured to cost but 50 cents a day, has been saving $1000 a month by cutting platinum from old electric light bulbs. He could not probably find bulbs enough to keep going at that rate indefinitely, but it is an illustration of how people throw away valuable metals.

When people get through with clothing they commonly give them to the poor. But good cloth is not actually worn out. Even when full of holes, there is good wool and cotton left. Where such material is saved, it can be scientifically cleaned and used over again, if not for clothing, it can go for roofing felt.

A GOOD RECORD.

Newark made a 100 per cent record at the officers' training school just closing at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis. Every one of the Newark candidates received a commission, and furthermore, a Newark man picked the plum of the big camp. Charles W. Miller, the well-known lawyer of this city, received a major's commission in the artillery, and as an artillery major, Major Miller is the ranking major appointed from the Fort Harrison candidates. Mr. Buell is made captain of infantry. Mr. Shinn and Mr. Perry, first lieutenants. Mr. Wright and Mr. Sims, second lieutenants of infantry. Mr. Rutledge and Mr. Thompson, first lieutenants of artillery. The people of this city have reason to be proud of the record made by Newark men at Fort Harrison.

TEACHING MERCHANDIZING.

The complaint has often been made to The Advocate by the merchants of Newark that the modern schools do not turn out many young people who are well-fitted for business life.

Perhaps the trouble is that our school systems do not offer incentive enough. Wages earned by store clerks are not usually high, and the limited opportunity may not stir the pupils' ambition. If they could be shown how by better training to make a bigger success, they would feel incited to more thorough preparation.

It is quite an art to conduct a retail store, and a young man needs a thorough training for it. The Hoboken, N. J., board of trade recently ran a school of merchandising for adult merchants and men already in business. It was interesting to see elderly men studying how to conduct a store, how to educate the public up to using the best goods, how to get people to become regular customers, etc. The advantages and methods of advertising were also taught.

The pupils were shown how on rush days to wait on two customers and keep everyone satisfied, where formerly they had attended to but one. The dignity of store-keeping and of the salesman's service were emphasized. Any young man thinking of entering retail trade would be benefited by a course like that. He would stand more chance of eventually getting into business for himself.

Indeed, if men already established in business need such training, how much more is it needed by novices! Of course, only cities of considerable size would probably feel able to conduct a school like that. Yet the time is quite likely to come when such schools will be run by many counties and by large towns, so that any young man desiring to enter retail trade would have such a school at no great distance from home. If retail trade is worth doing, it is worth doing in the most scientific way, with instructions based upon the practical experiences of men who succeeded in it.

Commissions for Columbus men reported from Fort Harrison number 57—not 57 varieties, though there are several varieties from second lieutenant to captains. Newark was honored with a major's commission, which goes to Chas. W. Miller, the attorney.

A RICH MAN'S WAR.

(Columbus Dispatch.)
Yes, this is a rich man's war—and rich men are doing their part, even as poor men are doing their part because it is also a poor man's war. Nor are rich seeking places of ease in the service of their country. They are giving their money, they are making personal sacrifices, and they are sending their sons into the very thick of it, to take their chances along with the sons of the poor.

In one of the illustrated publications appearing recently there was a full page of pictures of sons of rich men, and of the most famous ones of this Nation, all of them serving as privates in the army. There was the son of Cornelius Vanderbilt, and the son of ex-President Taft; there was a grand-nephew of John D. Rockefeller, and of the richest young men in all America, young Marshall Field. And there were other pictures of still other rich or famous men, each clad in the plain uniform of his country, each training to serve with all his might.

Yes, this is a rich man's war, and a poor man's war. Rich men and poor men have enlisted; rich men and poor men are going to suffer—and die. Rich men and poor men must fight together; each for the salvation of the other. For this war is for the protection of the rich and poor alike, and this Nation will not be a fit abode for either unless we conquer.

RUSSO-GERMAN DICKERS.

(Philadelphia Record.)
It is doubtful if the Germans will receive with enthusiasm the proposition of a three-months' armistice for all the belligerents put forth by London, Trotsky & Company, the Bolshevik syndicate now busily engaged in reducing Russia to absolute chaos and impotence. A suggestion for a separate peace would probably be welcomed at Berlin, though this idea is said not to be favored at Petrograd, as that would not only assist Germany in a military way by enabling her to withdraw such few troops as she has on the eastern front, but would also enable her to set in motion machinery intended to bring Russia under complete economic subjection to the Central Powers. There is already a strong likelihood of such a condition in an event, as Russia can no longer look to her old allies for material help, and its coming would be considerably expedited by a separate peace arranged between Petrograd and Berlin. That such a peace would mean the practical failure of the Russian revolution, Trotsky's domination being substituted for that of the Czar, probably counts for nothing with Lenin and Trotsky, who are supposed to be working in Germany's interest. Indeed, it would suit their purposes admirably.

An armistice would be quite a different matter. A cessation of hostilities for three months would give Great Britain an opportunity to accumulate such supplies of food that, if war were renewed, she could ignore the submarine menace. As Germany now relies upon her U-boats as her principal means of offense against England this long-breathing spell, which would put her chief enemy in excellent shape to continue the war indefinitely, would mean the undoing of all that she has accomplished upon the seas. The United States, too, would be enabled to make its influence much more effectively felt if unimpeded for three months in its warlike preparations.

Germany may, therefore, be expected to urge upon Russia the idea of a separate peace rather than a general armistice. But a separate peace, according to all the dispatches from Petrograd, is likely to involve another revolution in Russia and the overthrow of the misfits now in power. From every point of view it is a delicate situation for the Central Empires and Russia. While they are haggling over negotiations the allies will go right on fighting. As the Bolshevik outfit is not recognized as a Government probably no attention will be paid to anything that emanates from it.

OUR UNOFFICIAL ENEMIES.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Congress meets within a few days. The president makes it plain that so far as the administration is concerned the attitude at Washington will be that of single-minded insistence that everything possible shall be done to increase America's efficiency in the war. No one is likely to question the soundness of the policy.

The United States is at war with Germany. It is at peace with Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey. Yet Turkey, Bulgaria and Austria are allies of Germany.

The position of the American republic in reference to these three allies of our enemy is inconsistent. It would seem to be the part of wisdom for the president to recommend, and for congress to enact, a measure declaring a state of war existent between us and them.

As a matter of fact war does exist, in all but name. Money lent our allies is spent to combat Germany and Germany's allies indiscriminately. Munitions furnished Italy by the United States are destroyed or captured by Austrians. Turks and Bulgarians fight side by side with Germans. Bulgarian and Turkish troops by holding Germany's enemies at bay elsewhere are freeing hundreds of thousands of German veteran troops to fight Americans on the western front. Bulgar and Turk hope for American defeat in the war.

Yet these three allies of Germany are represented officially at Washington as if they were friendly nations in the fullest meaning of the term. Not only does the United States not make war on Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, but it has not even broken off diplomatic relations.

It is a situation not only inconsistent but dangerous. The sooner it is corrected by appropriate action at Washington the better it would seem to be for America.

In effect, Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria are already at war with the United States, whether we choose to acknowledge the fact or not. Mere self-censorship on our part seems to require that we take cognizance of the fact and measures adequate to meet them.

Here is need for action in strict harmony with the president's wish to confine government activity, as far as possible, to the channel of war. American efficiency as champion of democracy will be promoted by facing the facts.

IDEALS BEFORE DOLLARS.

(New York World.)
In the way of patriotic business sentiment nothing finer has come out of the war than Otto H. Kahn's resolution not to seek an increase of wealth while hostilities continue; and Jacob H. Schiff's eloquent endorsement of the idea in the presence of the Jewish board of welfare work in the army and navy is equally commendable.

If the American people generally were to enter the conflict in such a spirit, many of the most troublesome problems of the day would soon disappear. Time now wasted in controversies over a thousand things not essential to our national welfare and victory would be saved and there would be such an increase in material energy, to say nothing of moral force, as to be forever memorable.

Men who do not seek to add to their fortunes in a crisis like this know well enough that the possessions they now have are subject to all the vicissitudes of war, but the soldier and sailor make the same recognition as a matter of course, and in addition risk not only property but life.

When nations set their minds upon great and worthy objects, personal gain counts for little in comparison with the ends sought. Autocracy's wicked purpose has filled the earth with carnage. Democracy's triumph will be all the more complete and glorious if all its members find their profit in ideals rather than in dollars.

OURS NOT TO REASON WHY.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)
"I don't see why" is heard less frequently now than a few weeks or months ago when a new order or suggestion to curtail or abolish something, comfort or convenience is made to the people. The diminishing chorus of protest is significant, probably significant of the national spirit. When nearly every body is asking "why?" the American people had not been stirred to the fact that they are at war. Too many of them were unimpressed, indifferent, insensitive to the touch of a world tragedy, consequently they are self-centered. But they have been awakened. They have been stirred. They are ready to go. And they are going. So we have come here today half way to victory. The few last of Americans are growing less every day. "This thing must be done" is enough.

NO MEAT FOR SENATOR REED.

(Clinton Mo.) Republican.)
James Reed, who SAYS he represents the State of Missouri in the United States Senate and who spoke here Sunday night, called for meat yesterday morning at the Cozart Hotel. There are many people who believe that some one has been feeding the Senator meat often than is good for him now, and he didn't get it Tuesday morning, the reason being that Tuesday was the day set aside by the State Food Commissioner as meatless day, and the Cozart is observing the request.

Reed asked Mrs. Wintree if she was really going to cut out meat every Tuesday, and when she told him she was he ridiculed the idea, and said that it was a plan which would never work. "Just watch it for 30 days," said the Senator, "and you'll find that on Wednesday the people will eat more meat to make up for not having had any on the day before."

"When you get back to Washington," replied Mrs. Wintree, "look up Mr. Hoover and tell him the Cozart Hotel is supporting him and the Government in every possible way and will continue to do so."

The Senator didn't reply; he didn't even smile—but he ate fish.

COMRADES.

(Columbus Dispatch.)
It takes the uniform to make comrades. Men in citizen's clothes may be ever so friendly. They may have ever so much admiration for one for another. But until they put on army uniforms, their admiration or respect for each other does not rise to that sublime height of comradeship. Only the men in uniform ought to use the word.

The uniform has become of frequent occurrence in this country. We are at war, made evident everywhere. On the streets, in the hotels, upon the trains, at the stations, everywhere one sees the uniform—soldiers going and coming. But a man in uniform a little quicker than any body else. Certainly the uniform means more to the fellow who is himself wearing one than it means to any other.

These comrades are not a demonstrative lot. They do not always stop and speak to each other. They do not gush over one another as the private citizen is prone to do. But deep down in the heart there is the comradeship; it is noticeable in the glance of the eye of the man in uniform when he sees another of his kind. This war is going to form friendships that will rule the world, when the war is over, for it is as true today as it ever was in history that those who are banded together in comradeship are going to rule the world against those among whom comradeship does not exist.

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION.

(Ohio State Journal.)
Russia is an awful mess. Socialism brought it on. That means in this case a republic of workmen, soldiers, peasants, to be supported by the capitalists. And then the capitalists are denounced out of existence. It means anarchy and nothing else. The deluded people of that country are made to believe there is some way of living on the labor and wealth of others. The absolutism and religion of Russia have almost destroyed the logical processes of the people's thinking. They are no doubt striving toward a noble end but they are doing it in such a blind way that they are getting deeper in the mire.

It is well this country has decided to send them no more money. It has sent them hundreds of millions. But money will do them no good. They are joined to anything desperate, brought to that estate by some reckless doctrinaires who are engaged in the policy of chaos. It is sad not to help them, but help won't do them any good. They are joined to their ikons, which are perverted to corrupt pretensions. They will have to be let alone. Even the Kaiser won't trust them. That ought to commend them, but it doesn't. They have resorted to chaos through their existing ideals of liberty and they will have to work out of them alone. Their revolution has revolted, leaving humanity to suffer.

Spirit of the Press

The Railroads' Attitude.
All that remained to be done to perfect the conception of the railroads into the National service is accomplished by the announcement of the executives that they have assumed a passive attitude toward the demand of their employees for another advance in wages, and that they will acquiesce in any decision which the President makes. In addition to being President of the United States he has become president of all the railroads. The men who are the presidents of them in the titular sense in reality put their revenues at the disposal of the President. Government control of the railroads is thus made perfect and consummated, and in circumstances which impose only a moral responsibility on the government for the use which it makes of this absolute power. (Galveston News.)

Uncle Sam Won't Ask for Waivers.
The Ben Johnson, president of the American League, suddenly became a humorist. He drafted his baseball executive as a typical baseball executive and donated the genial motto: "It will be remembered that Mr. Johnson, mature years, past fifty and all declared that he was going to stay. Now Mr. Johnson asks for special exemption for star ballplayers. In other words, take the fat executive, but spare the player. There is only one answer to Mr. Johnson's little joke. There is some 'big league stuff' going on in France that requires very active young men. And if Uncle Sam decides that he wants somebody like Ben Johnson's very minor organizations, he is going to take them all, ready as the American League could draft a ballplayer from the Polak Maroons in Grand Rapids, baseball (Cincinnati Times-Star.)

Be Accurate.
An editor had a notice stuck up above his desk on which was printed: "Accuracy! Accuracy! Accuracy!" and this notice he always pointed out to the new reporters.

One day the youngest member of the staff came in with his report of a public meeting. The editor read it through and came to the sentence: "Three thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine eyes were fixed upon the speaker."

"What do you mean by making a silly blunder like that?" he demanded, wrathfully.

Amazing Power of Bon-Opto To Make Weak Eyes Strong

Doctor Says It Strengthens Eyesight 50 per cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription and many who wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses, and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would burn dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overworked, tired eyes, which induced severe headaches. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and with them I could not read my own name on an envelope of the type-writing on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to spare the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of

"TANLAC HELPED MOTHER AND ME"

"I feel a lot better," said Carl Otto, telling how Tanlac relieved him. He is employed by the Lancaster Lens company and lives on South Broad street. "For months I was troubled with poor digestion," he says. "My troubles had been coming on for over two years, and during that time I never felt exactly right. One day my father came home with a bottle of Tanlac for my mother. I didn't think much about it at first, but my mother praised it so highly after she had taken it for about a week that I wondered if it would help me. Without saying a word I took a dose or two just to see. It either helped me or I thought it helped me. Anyway it was sufficient to make me go and get a bottle. "Mother and I have now used three bottles between us, and it has put both of us on our feet. My stomach does not bother me any more, and I'm a hearty eater, too. Since taking Tanlac, I can tackle a heavy meal and do justice to it." Tanlac is a vegetable tonic that has built up thousands of people. If you are all run down and need a tonic get it today. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others. Tanlac is being specially introduced at Erman's Arcade drug store and may also be procured at the Evans' pharmacy, Warden - hotel building, east side square, Newark, and at the Hebron Drug Store, Hebron. ## MAKES APPLICATION TO BECOME MEMBER OF FEDERAL RESERVE

The Newark Trust company has made application to become a member of the Federal Reserve System, as announced by State Banking Superintendent Berg. The Newark Trust company has shown its progressive policy in taking this action, as this gives the institution increased facilities offered by the Federal Reserve which is conceded to be the greatest banking system in the world.

The Newark Trust company is the second trust company in Central Ohio to join this system, which means that the Trust company in connection with operation under its state charter also becomes a part of the national banking system.

THANKSGIVING DAY WILL WITNESS END COUNTY CAMPAIGN

With the Newark City campaign passed into history and the work in most of the townships outside done, the time for the final reckoning of results prevents itself. Over half of the townships have not made their final reports but are expected to be in the hands of the manager by Thanksgiving Day, at which time it is expected to close the campaign and make the final report to the public. All township chairmen are urged to have their reports in by that time in order that the Friday evening papers may carry a full report of each township's contribution to the fund. In this connection it might be well to say that in some of the township organizations there has been proper support of the chairmen on the part of those on whom the success of a movement inevitably depends, those in the ranks. It should be borne in mind that if when the final results are counted any township or community appears by comparison to have done less than their full share, the blame will lie not on the shoulders of the chairman only, but on every resident of that community who did not do his utmost both in personal service and in cash. In this time of our country's trial there can be no excuse for any one who does less than his best.

HOPE TO SELECT JURY TODAY IN THE MEANS CASE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
CONCORD, Nov. 27.—Three jurors had been selected for the trial of Gaston B. Means on the charge of murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, the wealthy New York and Chicago widow, out of thirty veniremen examined when court recessed for lunch today.

Five men were peremptorily excused by the defense. The state did not use any of its challenges on the first thirty men.

The circumstantial case the state will seek to build against Means, was indicated by questions asked veniremen whether they would convict a defendant without an eye witness. No one, it has been testified previously, was present at Blackwelder Springs when Mrs. King was shot last August except Means and the woman. Whether they would give "due and proper consideration" to expert witnesses and whether they had any prejudice against witnesses from any state also were questions asked veniremen by the state. This was taken to indicate the state's intention to prove by New York and Chicago experts that it would have been physically impossible for the woman to have inflicted the bullet wound that caused her death.

Both prosecution and defense went into details about opinions formed and the defense in particular asked what effect newspaper reading had had on the prospective jurors.

"Do you believe Mrs. King could not have shot herself?" was a question asked by the defense. This was taken to indicate that Means' counsel would endeavor to clear him on the ground that Mrs. King accidentally shot herself as was decided by the local coroner's jury.

A number of veniremen were excused for having formed and expressed an opinion about the defendant's guilt or innocence. Those who thought Means guilty were about equal in number to those who thought him innocent.

The trial of Gaston B. Means for the murder of Mrs. Maude A. King, the wealthy New York and Chicago widow shot near here last August, was resumed today with the selection of jurors, which court officials hoped to complete by adjournment.

The sheriff and his deputies had been busy summoning as many as possible of the 150 veniremen ordered for the trial and with the 13 remaining from the panel called for the special session it was felt enough would be present from which to select the 12 men for the jury box.

The state's counsel asked the veniremen if they would accept circumstantial evidence and also if they would "give due and proper consideration to the testimony of expert witnesses" on an equal basis with other testimony. They were questioned also as to whether they would be "prejudiced against witnesses from another state."

The state is relying on weaving a net of circumstantial evidence around Means and by New York and Chicago experts hopes to show it would have been physically impossible for Mrs. King to have inflicted the bullet wound that caused her death.

The state's attorneys were careful to ask questions as to kinship and business connections and inquired of veniremen whether they had visited Means in jail.

Means' counsel asked many questions as to opinions formed and to what extent the veniremen had talked about the case. Buchanan, the second man accepted, said he had talked very little about the case except to his wife. He was asked in detail about what he had read of the case, particularly in a Chicago weekly paper.

Means counsel asked one venireman whether he would convict Means if the state was unable to show a motive for the crime.

The state pointed out that North Carolina law does not require a motive to be shown and was upheld by the court.

THRIFT CAMPAIGN PLANNED TODAY AT INITIAL MEETING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
COLUMBUS, Nov. 27.—Plans for Ohio's part in the national thrift campaign, the object of which is to raise money for the nation and to instill habits of thrift among citizens, were discussed today at the initial meeting of a delegation of business men held here at the instance of Harry P. Wolfe, director of the federal reserve bank at Cleveland. He will act as president and John V. Bassell of Columbus, was made secretary.

The men who met here today will be general directors of a campaign lasting an entire year in which effort will be made to raise $100,000,000—Ohio's quota in the campaign. Saving stamps will be sold. The system is designed to appeal to persons of small means not heretofore reached by Liberty loan campaigns, or other plans.

An executive committee will be formed at once, representing every element of Ohio commercial and civil life, and public schools and universities will be included as auxiliary forces. The organization will be extended to the 88 counties, with a chairman at the head of each county and a sub-chairman for county districts. City and rural mail carriers will act in the capacity of salesmen of the stamps during the campaign.

MUSIC

The Philharmonic Society of New York which gives its concert here at the Auditorium Theatre on December 19 is an American institution with a history of over 75 years work in the cause of art under American patronage. It is in fact the oldest orchestral organization in the United States. Like every American society and individual the Philharmonic feels the solemn greatness of this hour for the nation, and has made its contribution to the living history of today.

The large membership of the Philharmonic Society has contributed many to the national war service. The members of the Philharmonic Orchestra responded loyally to the recent second Liberty loan. Although musicians can rarely be ranked among the wealthy classes, the men who play for the Philharmonic have contributed more than $14,000 to the purchase of Liberty bonds. It is generally believed that symphony orchestras in the United States are made up largely of German musicians. Although this is a fact, it is true some years ago it is a fact that the present Philharmonic orchestra is composed entirely of American citizens, and that by far the largest percent of them were born in this country.

To speak in exact figures there are forty-two native born musicians in the orchestra. The national citizens represent eleven nations—Russia, Italy, Holland, Hungary, Bohemia, France, Poland, Germany, Norway and Belgium. Of these only fourteen came originally from Germany or Austria and their contributions to the orchestra's total bond subscription of $14,000 is ample testimony of their unqualified Americanism to the many patrons of the Philharmonic who are interested in the personal side of the orchestra's life.

REASON BEHIND EACH NEW STYLE

Skirts Are Narrow Because of French Embargo on the Use of Cloth.

FROCKS SLIP OVER THE HEAD

Are Made Without Fasteners Because Those Accessories Are Difficult to Obtain in Paris.

New York.—Everything that was invented in clothes this year had a reason. Skirts are narrow because the French government limited the use of cloth to five meters. They are minus fasteners because these accessories were difficult to get and war-time activities demanded a speedy method of dressing, so frocks were made to go over the head and tie around the body in a primitive fashion.

Certain dyes were exploited because there were no others to be had. Fringed fabrics were introduced because applied ornamentation was costly and the supply was vastly decreased from that of former days.

Immense top coats with inter-linings were made by the dozens because the French women were compelled to walk through a lack of taxicabs, and the American women were supposed to have started on a system of economy which would compel them to walk instead of paying money for taxis.

Voluminous peltry was applied to all costumes because of the intense cold on both continents last winter and because of the scarcity of coal in Paris last January and the promise of it in this country for this winter.

The Paris designers have given all kinds of anecdotal reasons for their gowns, and some of the American dressmakers who are not given to either narrative or reasons for their clothes, are repeating the French talk in an interesting way.

Most Dominant Fashion.

The most dominant fashion produced this winter is the garment that slips on over the head and has pieces of the material to tie it into place. This is quite as primitive as in days when Melisande lived, loved and died.

A year ago, the reporters who study clothes intently and with an inside knowledge of scarcity of certain materials, prophesied that the near future would bring about women's clothes that were fashioned to be adjusted without fasteners. France sent up some trial balloons in gowns that were cut in two pieces and tied around the hips by a sash that was a bit of the material of the front width and evidently these trial balloons proved that the air was safe for the sending out of dozens of such frocks.

The Americans have accepted them in high glee. It is a novelty that tickles the mind of the novelty-hunting American women. When you see a group of fashionably dressed women eagerly talking and gesticulating, pulling out pieces of a frock here and there and turning themselves around as on a pivot, you will realize that they are each explaining to the other how the frock is adjusted without a hook and eye, without a button and without a loop.

Cost Suits Catch Fever.

The new coat suits have caught the fever, and some of the best are adjusted with merely a loop of military braided run through a buttonhole and tied back on itself.

The smartest afternoon gowns have large buttonholes from neck to waist, through which are run pieces of braid or pleated ribbon tying the two fronts together.

No woman who likes puzzles and who is fond of trying out novel schemes, can fall to be interested in this game. She can wear a new gown with a new kind of fastening and crow over her neighbors as though she had taken in the largest subscription for the Liberty loan. It may develop into a pastime, if the interest and excitement in this kind of clothing keep up.

At the moment of writing, our government has not put an embargo on the amount of material to be used in each gown. Germany and France have both done this, and those who are in Paris say that the French dressmakers have taken the keenest delight in following the decree. A quantity of material in a gown has never appealed to a French designer, and with the government behind the elimination of fabrics, each of the gowns turned out this year shows originality of conception and treatment in achieving an artistic result with a very few meters of cloth.

The French Silhouette.

A few of the American clothes which were designed before the French silhouette was thoroughly accepted, have taken their place a little behind the front row of fashions because they look bunglesome. Here is the French silhouette as the best-dressed Americans have adopted it: A slim undershirt made in one piece that runs from the collarbone nearly to the ankle in a street frock, and from bust to within six inches of the ankle in an evening gown. It is merely the skeleton of the gown, but on it are draped the few remaining yards of fabric that are allowed to complete the work.

Therefore, it is quite fashionable to use transparent material for the afternoon and evening, in order to show the slim little slip beneath. It is not necessary that the transparent fabric used over this slip should be cut off to correspond. It may rise to the shoulders and drop to the instep, and in that very alluring transparency, you get the East Indian effect.

The statement may be taken as authoritative that whatever gown has a gathered drop skirt is out of the fashion. You may gather the top material, but the lining must be slim and cut closely to the lines of the figure, although it is not drawn in at the waist.

KNIT HAT OF SATIN RIBBON

One Hundred and Forty Yards Required to Weld the Fascinating Piece of Headgear Into Shape.

At the precise moment that the command is issued to reduce the measurement of every new frock we are confronted with a hat which exacts no less than 140 yards of ribbon, to make it, says a Paris letter.

Just think of it! One hundred and forty yards to fashion an amusing fancy for resort.

It may be as well to add that the ribbon chosen is satin, as a rule, and it is knitted into shape according to the latest whim of Dame Fashion. These hundred and forty yards of ribbon, however, will not run the risk of compromising either the resources or the future of our country, for many young coquettes find amusement in welding this fascinating type of headgear into shape by their own agile fingers. For sport and country wear the vogue for crocheted or knitted hats, made either in silk or wool, grows each day, and, always evolved in the most "civilized" possible, these affairs are made to harmonize with the Jersey or sports coat and the scarf they accompany.

NEW SHAPES, ODD

Popular Hat Imitation of Stage Driver's Headpiece.

Charm of This Style Lies in the Shaggy Material With Which the Frame Is Covered.

The lower head in the accompanying sketch shows the high-crowned hat of "oursine," which is an almost exact imitation of the quaint hats worn by the drivers of stage coaches in olden times. This may be said to be the most popular shape of the present season and it is exceedingly becoming to pretty faces, writes Idalla de Villiers, Paris fashion correspondent.

The whole charm of this style of hat is embraced in the shaggy material with which the shape is covered. In some cases long-haired silk beaver is adopted, but silk beaver hats are exceedingly expensive and for ordinary wear shapes covered with soft "oursine" are quite as effective.

The model sketched was in pure white oursine, with a wide band of sapphire-blue velvet twisted round the top of the crown and tied in a loose bow at one side. Similar hats are simply trimmed with a wide band of crocheted work in some brilliant-colored wool, with a full tasseled fringe coquettishly over the right ear.

The second head shows a model by Lewis. This is one of the newest shapes, and it is half hat, half toque. In front the brim is pressed into a point, but at the back it is flat and finished with a large, flat bow. No trimming is introduced on hats of this kind, and they are worn well pressed down over the hair.

For wearing with simple tailored suits this model would be specially suitable and it might be made in some bright colored velvet or panne; for example, in emerald green or tomato red. The crown is high and very full, with a slight tendency toward extra width at the back. For everyday wear such a hat might be made of gray oursine, or of golden-yellow chamol cloth, with a flat black satin bow at the back.

GIRL MAKES NOVEL REMINDER

Artistic Results Achieved by Use of Common School Slate and a Little Black Enamel.

One girl, who rejoices in more artistic impulses than a good memory, has made for herself the cutest little reminder imaginable. The foundation is a slate like the youngsters use or used to use in the lower grades of school. With some black enamel she gave the frames two coats until it shone just like the lovely Oriental lacquer work. Then from a Japanese tray she copied a few suggestive sketches of Fujiyama, the famous snow-capped mount, a pagoda or two on the framework right over the black enamel with some gray paint. To the plate she hung a slate pencil on a bright red cord with a tiny sponge at one end. This she hangs right near her bed, and when something she must remember strikes her just as she jumps into bed before sleep comes, down it goes on the pretty slate and is safe till the morrow.

The same idea could be used for a girl who boards for laundry lists, or for messages which come by phone while she is out.

Charming Bag Idea.

If you are thinking of something "different" in a knitting bag, how about this? Black oilcloth, bone handles, white silk lining, and stuffed silk fruits. The top of the bag is attached with three rows of shirring, the lining is of brilliant white moire silk. And the use of the bright colored silk fruit is the most striking thing about it. Satin apples, pears, peaches, and even grapes in their natural colors just drip down each side of the bag. There is absolutely no decoration on either the front or the back of the bag.

Fabrics to Cling.

Serge is good, if it is soft; otherwise, it should be barred. The fundamental thing is to get the fabric that clings to the figure. All others must be put on the opposite side of the scale. Nothing must have any chance to flare.

It's all right to be progressive, but the man with push often has to take a back seat to the man with a pull.

NERVOUS WRECK; NOW LIVE WIRE

Makes Everybody Sit Up and Take Notice.

One of our big league ball players had been going back for some time, no matter how hard he tried he could not get his old time pep and ginger into the game, it was up hill work all the time. He was one of those honest hard working fellows and it finally got his "goat," his nerves went bad, he commenced to run down, could not eat or sleep and kept steadily slipping. Doctors and medicines were of no help.

One of his many admirers said to him, "Why not try Phosphated Iron, everybody is boosting it."

Grasping at the last straw, the poor fellow took a try at it. The way he came back was an "eye opener," he was there in every department of the game, his nerves were like iron, he could hit the ball and was no time getting back to the three hundred mark, while his base running and fielding were great.

Discussing the matter with our reporter he said, "Would you believe it, I could feel the iron charging my blood with health and strength, while the way the phosphates steadied and renewed by nerve force was almost too great to believe. Phosphated Iron took hold of me right from the start and sure did make a new man of me, and you can bet I carry a good supply on all my trips."

Doctors will tell you that you must have plenty of Iron and Phosphates in your system if you want pure red blood and steady nerves of iron. Every one who is run down, nervous tired and has that "all in" feeling should try Phosphated Iron and you will never be without it again.

Special Notice—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only. Evans' Drug Store and leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

A search was instituted but no trace of the missing woman could be found.

FOR CATARRH AND DEAFNESS

Here in America there is much suffering from catarrh and deafness. American people would do well to consider the method employed by the English to combat this insidious disease. Everyone knows how damp the English climate is and how dampness affects those who are catarrhical. In England they treat catarrh, deafness and head noises as a constitutional disease and use an internal remedy for it that is really very effective. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored by this English treatment to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven and eight inches away from their ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with catarrh, catarrhical deafness or head noises, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be easily prepared at home for a few cents and is made as follows:

From your druggist obtain 1 oz. of Eucalypti (Double Strength). Take this home, and add to it a pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Stir until dissolved. Take a tablespoonful four times a day. This is a very effective remedy not only to reduce the inflammation of the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum of the ear, but also to cure any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are usually quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial. For sale by T. J. Evans.—Advertisement.

60 Detroit Electrics Out-travel 60 Gas Cars

See what this test proves as to the mileage and utility of the modern Detroit Electric.

An accurate check was made of the speedometer readings of 60 Detroit Electrics in 10 different cities. The check covered 60 days.

It showed that each day these Detroit Electrics traveled from 30 to 90 miles.

They averaged 51 miles per day. A check was also made upon 60 gas cars in these 10 cities. This check also covered the same 60 days.

It showed that each of these gas cars traveled from 27 to 65 miles as against the Detroit Electrics 30 to 90 miles.

The gas cars averaged 42 miles per day as against the Detroit Electrics 51 miles per day.

There are two very important facts established by this test.

First, it proves that the average Detroit Electric owner uses his car more than the average gas car owner.

One factor in this is that all the members of the family can drive a Detroit Electric easily and safely. That is not true of the heavy gas car with complicated mechanism.

Second, it proves that the Detroit Electric has a greater mileage on a single charge of the battery than you need or use in a day.

It will give 80 to 90 miles on a charge.

Yet of the 60 gas car owners none traveled more than 65 miles a day.

Come in and let us give you some further interesting facts about the Detroit Electric.

FIRST STATE YOUNG PEOPLES ORGANIZED CLASS CONFERENCE

The first State Young People's Organized Class Conference which is to be held in this city the last of this week, will bring to our city from two to three hundred of the finest young people in the state. Look in last Saturday's city papers for the full program.

The need for uniting the young people's classes of the state for war relief and patriotic service, as well as keeping the local Sunday schools manned by trained workers is imperative at this time. Young people have to discover their own potential values and long before the

BRYAN HEISE.

Mr. Bryan Heise of Wauseon who will have charge of some of the conferences for young men.

church ever realized their need for separate organization, instruction and service activity, they were finding it in real life in innumerable clubs and groups of their own.

Then the Christian Endeavor and other young people's societies spread like wild fire because their founders had discovered the need of the young people and the splendid work they were capable of doing in the churches.

To the pioneers of the "Congress" movement, "Columbus, 1912" is a hallowed memory. "Newark, 1917" will stand out not only in Ohio, but in the United States as the beginning of the Federation of the Young People's Organized Class movement, which is to become the most powerful agency in the lives of the young men and young women in the churches.

The local committee in charge of the conference will meet this evening at 8:30 in the Y. M. C. A. Every member is urged to be present.

PREPARING FOR THE XMAS CHEER FOR BOYS IN CAMP

Chairman George Graeser of the soldiers Christmas dinner committee, requests all citizens of the county desiring to contribute to same to get in touch with Secretary Emmet McDaniel, at once as the time is drawing near to close the drive at Chillicothe, O., for the boys at Camp Sherman at Mount Vernon, Ala., for the boys at Camp Sheridan, and at Little Rock, Ark., for the boys in the cantonment near that city.

There will be about 350 boys to take care of and it is going to be some task. Anything in the provision line is acceptable. Bring in or send in your contributions of turkeys, geese, ducks, guineas, chickens, rabbits or young pigs, and they will be placed in cold storage until they can be shipped.

A special program will be arranged at all the camps and the Licking county boys are anticipating a good time. The feast will not take place on Christmas Day as the government will provide a special dinner on that day, but it will be given later, probably a couple of days before or after New Year's day.

Soliciting captains in various parts of the city report meeting with splendid success but there will be number that it will be impossible to see, and if they will kindly mail checks or hand the money to the secretary all will be given proper credit. Remember, these boys will soon be fighting for us in the trenches and it is a very little thing that you are asked to do. Just one more little "bit" by the fellows who stay at home while our boys are fighting our battles.

RED CROSS CONCERT HELD AT OUTVILLE DRAWS BIG CROWD

The Outville Music club at Outville presented a Marguerite Virginia Hall of Wheeling, W. Va., on Saturday evening in a concert for the benefit of the Red Cross. A large and appreciative audience greeted this promising young artist. And there was the greatest enthusiasm displayed from the time "America" was sung until the closing number, "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," was sung, and Miss Hall was compelled to give two encores to every group of songs. Particularly enthusiastic were the audience of her interpretation of "Villanelle," by del Aquia, and she responded with the sympathetic "Absence," by Metcalf, even then they were not satisfied and she responded again with "Keep the Home-Fire Burning," and received a big ovation.

During the evening, Miss Hall in a Red Cross nurse costume, presented a beautiful flag, on behalf of the Outville Music club, to the Presbyterian church, and with the assistance of twelve of the Outville young ladies, gave "The Story Told the Flag," followed by the pledge to Old Glory, and concluding with the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Miss Hall is "doing her bit" in Red Cross work, giving her voice and time to Red Cross benefits. She recently sang for the Cecilia Music club of Uta, for a Red Cross benefit, and they cleared $78.55 for this work. Miss Hall is well-known in Newark, having sang here a number of times.

POLICE SERGEANT FROM DECATUR, ILL., LOOKS UP FENBERG

Sergeant of Police L. W. Friebourg of Decatur, Ill., arrived in the city Monday afternoon and immediately looked up Manager Gen. M. Fenberg of the Auditorium theater, that gentleman having formerly resided in Decatur. Word that the officer was looking for Manager Fenberg reached a number of that gentleman's friends and they hastened to the theater to offer bail or assistance in getting extradition in case it was needed. They found the bustling little manager and Sergeant Friebourg indulging in a love-feast and an exchange of reminiscences when Mr. Fenberg managed the Majestic theater in the Illinois city, previous to coming to Newark. The Decatur officer was in Columbus on business and could not come to the city to offer bail or assistance in getting extradition in case it was needed. ## ARE PROPRIETARY MEDICINES FRAUDULENT?

Undoubtedly, there may be some that are, but on the other hand, there are many proprietary remedies that are as standard as any prescription that any present day physician can write, and in thousands of homes you will find these old, reliable remedies in every day use with satisfactory results. Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which, for nearly 40 years, has been alleviating the suffering of womankind, and overcoming some of the most serious ailments of her sex. If you are suffering from any of the ailments of women, just give this medicine a trial and prove its worth for yourself.—Advertisement.

WHY SOCIETY WOMEN WASH THEIR OWN HAIR

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.
